

Drive Management Services (DMS) becomes the HAYLEY 247 DEXIS | Reliability division

Condition-based monitoring and engineering reliability experts Drive Management Services (DMS) is now an integral division of HAYLEY 247 DEXIS.

HAYLEY 247 DEXIS is part of DEXIS Europe, the industrial arm of Descours & Cabaud, a multi-billion Euro organisation that has operations throughout Europe and North America.

DMS has been integral to part of HAYLEY 247 DEXIS since 2018 and serviced direct customers and those of UK sister company HAYLEY DEXIS. Across a multitude of industry sectors from aggregates, metals and automotive. Supporting engineers with their predictive and preventative maintenance needs.

Mark Brady, HAYLEY 247 DEXIS, managing director stated, “Coming under the 247 banner is the natural evolution for the reliability division based up in our Rotherham office. Assuming the DEXIS branding makes it seamless for customers across the UK when providing a complete MRO and engineering services offer.”

Jonathan McNamee, general manager of the Reliability division stated, “Becoming a more integral part of the wider DEXIS group of companies in the UK brings about more clarity to customers, also assists with how our services sit within a wider offer focused on delivering value for customers, through reducing costly downtime or maximising investment in critical assets.”
